

Limited time offer for remote learning

As school leaders and IT staff transition from short-term fixes to more long-term solutions, Microsoft is here to help. Working with our OEMs and Global Training Partners we are bringing together specially-priced devices, professional development, and onboarding assistance into a single offer so that schools and districts can quickly move to an equitable, sustainable platform to deliver remote learning.

Through this limited time offer schools can provide students with safe and secure access to learning, deliver training for teachers so they feel ready and confident engaging with students in class or on-line, and connect with technical experts ready to help with deployment and onboarding.

Whatever the future may bring, Microsoft stands ready to help make your students, your teachers, and your school future proof. We are so excited to travel the world without leaving the classroom.
