YOU and CDW

Complete support in and out of the cloud.

At CDW, we have nearly two decades of Microsoft product sales and service experience. From Ready Enterprise and SharePoint to Exchange and Skype® for Business, we've had experts for as long as the products have been on the market.

With our specific expertise, our goal is to let you focus on what you do best. So you're free from the endless cycle of deployments and updates. By helping with mailbox migration and providing ongoing support, we can eliminate as much email disruption as possible.

And if things are ever even a little bit bumpy, we're here to help. We can assist with license procurement and management or migration concerns.

END-TO-END SUPPORT

Services for each stage of the lifecycle.

Assess

We'll start with a kickoff consultation and cloud readiness assessment with your dedicated cloud client executive and our cloud engineers. This provides insight into your current environment so we can build a cloud solution to fit your needs and goals.

Design

With the information gathered in our initial assessment, we'll help you design a seamless strategy for the cloud. And with our integration services, we'll make sure your existing infrastructure is equipped to handle your migration and will work alongside your new solution.

Deploy

With our concierge migration service, our experts will create a plan for implementation and help you transfer your servers, applications and databases. We'll help the process go quickly and smoothly and conduct a post-migration assessment to help ensure success.

Manage

If you'd rather focus on other projects, we can also manage or host your cloud solution for you. You can scale the amount of service you want us to handle and enjoy access to our expert engineers and 24/7/365 remote hands network connectivity.
